Story

A Conversation with the Flowers

The Flora Rabbit family was a gentle family who loved flowers. Nolan, the Flora Rabbit father, was always looking after his flowers and herbs in the garden."Another beautiful day!" he said to them. "Say, herbs, would you mind if I take some of your leaves? I'd like to make some delicious herbal tea." Nolan was so good at growing things that it was as if he really could talk to them. Alice, the Flora Rabbit girl, loved nothing more than reading books about plants....

The Crayon Seeds

Runo and Viola, the Flora Rabbit twin babies, loved to draw. The things they loved most of all were the crayons their mother and father had given them. They drew and drew with those crayons. Before long, they had drawn with them so much that their favorite ones were too small to draw with anymore! Oh, bother! One day, when Runo and Viola went outside, they saw their big brother Lennon working on some flowerbeds. "I'm planting some seeds," said Lennon. "If I take good care of them, these little seeds will grow into flowers! Would you two like to plant some seeds, too?" "Yes, please!" replied Runo and Viola. They carefully planted some seeds, smiling happily at each other. . . .

The Surprise Shopping Trip

The Latte Cat family loved to look their best. "I love your outfits!" the villagers would say when they saw the Latte Cat family walking down the cobblestone paths between the shops at the market. Matteo, the Latte Cat father, loved shopping. Whenever the family went shopping, Matteo would point out new clothes. "That would look wonderful on you," he would say to one of the others. "Would you like to try it on?" And he was right every time. On the way home, Matteo would carry all the bags, beaming with pride.
